What did Ellison want to achieve?

The team at Ellison had a high number of customers they wanted to communicate with using EDI so they set about finding the right provider – one that could help them implement electronic messaging for the first time.

Nick Lewis, Supply Chain Team Leader at Ellison, says, 'We wanted to save time and improve accuracy. We did a lot of research and NetEDI seemed the best as they could deliver what we needed and offered the most competitive price.'

"We have used the support on a number of occasions which has been very good."

Ellison now has a tailor-made, integrated system

We provide our cloud-based, NeTIX Professional solution for Ellison, which is seamlessly integrated into their existing Microsoft Dynamics NAV back-office system. Nick says,

From a processing point of view, it's been brilliant. We don't have to rekey information or deal with invoices which used to be an intensive part of what we did.'

Our solution is fully scalable which means that Ellison can easily add new trading partners when they need to and tweak the service to suit their needs. Nick says, 'We have just implemented the Advanced Shipping Notice package and the support with that was very good. We can now say that we're EDI capable, which will work to our advantage in the future.'

At NetEDI, we take pride in providing a personal, friendly and efficient service and all our solutions are fully managed by our team of EDI experts.

'It makes such a difference knowing you can ask any question. The team at NetEDI are very friendly and willing to help and this is one of the things that makes them stand out.'
