

We helped Rebel Kitchen integrate EDI with Xero and Unleashed

Rebel Kitchen is revolutionizing food for everyone: Healthy alternatives that taste mind-blowingly good. They question received wisdom and demand that we all rethink our unsustainable approach to health, nutrition, consumption, agriculture and manufacturing.

We're happy to be providing Rebel Kitchen with a fully managed EDI solution that is integrated into their existing accounting and inventory software.

Integrated with Xero and Unleashed

Fully-managed with 24/7 support

What did Rebel Kitchen want to achieve?

When Rebel Kitchen decided that they wanted to switch EDI providers, another one of our customers in the same industry referred them to us to see if we could help. At the time, Rebel had a high number of trading partners using different methods of communication and they wanted to consolidate all their lines of communication into one, efficient EDI solution.

Emily Attwood, part of the UK Logistics team at Rebel Kitchen, says, "The more trading partners you have the bigger the margin for error, so it was important for us to have everything on one, simplified system."

"The team at NetEDI were very patient and helpful when we were implementing the solution."

Rebel Kitchen now has a fully integrated and managed solution

At NetEDI, we focus heavily on integrating with existing back-office systems in order to provide the most streamlined and efficient system possible.

We implemented our NeTIX Professional solution for Rebel Kitchen and integrated their EDI messages into their existing Xero and Unleashed back-office systems.

Xero provides a powerful and easy-to-use service that allows businesses to manage and automate their essential accounting tasks. Unleashed allows businesses to manage their inventories efficiently and with expert, local support.

Emily says, 'The fact that you could integrate with Xero and Unleashed was definitely a factor in our decision to choose your service. Xero is an application that is used throughout the whole team, so if you couldn't integrate with them that would have been a problem. We use Unleashed for stock reconciliation and, thanks to your integration, our orders now go into both systems at the same time. It's great that the systems talk to each other.'

"Your support team has been incredible. Whatever question we have you're always on hand to help."
